1. What happened? Without judgment or interpretation, describe in detail the facts and events of the service experience. Then write how you felt about that experience.
2. So What? Describe what you learned and what difference you think you made in through the process. In this section you can write about how the experience differed from your expectation, what you liked/disliked about the experience, how your relationship developed with the recipients of your service, how your service addressed musical need, the most creative aspects of your service, reflections of areas for improvement, and anything else you learned.
3. Now What? Describe how you will think or act in the future as a result of this experience. Some questions to consider: Do you need to learn more? If yes, what do you need to learn? Do you think music needs more service in this area? What information could you share with your peers or fellow interns about this experience? If you were in charge of this unit, what would you do to improve it? If you could complete this unit again, what would you do differently?
